Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Geographic Society of Chicago, Vol. 6: Starved Rock State Park and Its Environs This Bulletin has been prepared for the benefit of those who, in their visits to Starved Rock State Park, are interested in knowing more about the region than can be gathered by personal observation in the few hours, or the few days, commonly spent in the park. The authors of the several parts of the volume have given much time to the study of those phases of the region which they severally discuss. The chief interest of the Geographic Society centers in the geography of the region. The physical geography of the park and its surroundings has a number of features, such as the beautiful little canyons, which are somewhat unusual in this part of the country. Physical geography has its basis in geology, and plant life is closely related to topography and to conditions of moisture, soil, and sunlight. In addition to a discussion of the geography, therefore, it has seemed appropriate to present a brief outline of the geology of the region, and to give some account of the plant life as related to its physical surroundings. One phase of modern geography is historical, and the author of Part I has given some account of the historical development of the region, especially in its relation to physical environment. The historical statement has gone beyond the strict limits of geography, but not beyond the limits which seem appropriate in this Bulletin. The history leads to a consideration of human activities in the region at the present time, and of their relations to the physical environment. This human phase of the...
